

GREEN MILE TREES

Watering

1

As the days get warmer, you will need to start watering your plants.

2

The best way to check when you need to water is to feel the soil below the surface. Optimum conditions are damp, not wet (or dry). The best time to water is in the evening.

3

If you have planted evergreen trees or hedges, don't worry if there is some leaf drop/discolouration. New foliage is on its way!

4

You should be feeding all newly planted trees and plants anytime now. You may need to feed again in 4-6 weeks.
